

When it comes to obtaining more favorable rates, there's strength in numbers.

Through the Wisconsin Bankers Association (WBA) health plan, you may be offered group plan designs and rates available to large employers that may be better tailored to the needs of your employees. The benefits don't stop there.

It pays to work with a proven leader.

With more than 20 years serving nearly 1 million employees from aggregated employer groups, UnitedHealthcare is uniquely positioned to deliver group health plans that help offer benefits to the employees of your association members.

Multiple plan options and savings.

UnitedHealthcare offers dozens of plan designs — allowing flexibility in options to help balance cost.

Cost estimator tool.

Convenient resources help members make informed choices about their health care costs and needs.

Less disruption.

An array of plans, doctors and services are designed to be similar to what your employees have today, helping make for a smooth transition.

Empowering small groups with more purchasing power.

By joining together, your business may:

- Obtain coverage options that are available to large employers, which may be less expensive.
- Reduce administrative costs through economies of scale.
- Strengthen your bargaining position to help obtain more favorable rates.
